

Belgravia Gallery

Art Gallery & Art Advisory, Surrey

with the opportunity to arrange site visits and view artwork in situ. With a wealth of knowledge, Anna and Laura offer advice from expert sourcing through to installation, framing services, rental, insurance valuations, shipping and restoration. Representing both established and emerging British and international artists, advice can also be available on current market trends.

Buying a piece of art is an important acquisition, so the wise buyer chooses carefully and seeks expert advice. They are keen to encourage their clients to place art at the very heart of their interior. Rather than something that is added at the end, they like to view art as a feature that enhances the character of its environment, and is integral to a space and the owner's enjoyment of it.

The best pieces of art are not always the most expensive, and as art consultants with over 30 years of experience, they can ascertain very quickly what a client – and a space – needs. They have relationships with wonderful artists from all over the world who are talented and willing to create something unique and perfectly suited to its surroundings.

Artists include: Nelson Mandela, HRH The Prince of Wales, Charlie Mackesy, John Illsley, Pablo Picasso and others. ■

For more information contact:

belgraviagallery.com 020 7495 1010

laura@belgraviagallery.com

Follow them on Social Media

Belgravia Gallery, formerly based in Belgravia and then Mayfair for over 20 years, relocated to Cranleigh, Surrey, some 3 years ago and now offers a wide range of artists, art styles and price points to suit different tastes and budgets.

They will help you select works tailored to your needs, space and style. Uniquely, the collection of art is available for viewing in a beautiful home setting in the Surrey Hills combined with a personalised art advisory service to accommodate every level of buyer. With their approachable ethos, Anna and Laura are focused on supporting clients to pursue their interests, whether for passion, investment or both.

Belgravia Gallery gives guidance on a range of art with a variety of price points for individual collectors, corporate clients and interior designers,

